His Man-Tailored Suit

Service for Men
Thomas Wright Secures Agency for High Class Tailoring

"I now have an exclusive agency for this district for Semirady tailored clothes," said Thomas E. Wright. "They are of superior quality, and while one may buy cheaper clothing elsewhere, hand tailoring and maintaining costs less in the long run; not alone in the better and longer wear, but in the good feeling it gives one to look and feel well dressed."

"A cheap suit looks cheap in a week. The first shower kills it, but a man-tailored suit comes up smiling after hard usage."

Mr. Wright can "save the gas" and give his customers the clothes that are as good as one can get in any city. The photo-type measuring form assure a perfect fitting garment.

The chief designer of Semirady clothes kept in touch with the London styles through the Semirady headquarters in Bradford, England, but the visits of the Prince and Lord George to Canada gave him a close-up view of the styles approved for the younger men who like smart styles and of the older men who prefer conservative styles.

"I have the exclusive agency for Semirady custom tailored clothes for the district, and can deliver a modern measure suit always within a fortnight," he said. 14-15

Baintree Notes

Mrs. Billy Bell was a visitor to Calgary last Tuesday.
Johnny Molines is sporting a new car of the Dodge variety.

— and —
The A. F. are building a new clubhouse at Hamlet, on the C.P.R., just south of Baintree and expect to have it completed within thirty days. Richard Jacobs will be the operator and as Jack is a real good scout, and deservedly popular with everyone, he will undoubtedly handle a large quantity of trade.

— and —
But look out! The way that Harry Troth has been acting recently makes us think he is about to resume his usual winter occupation of organizing surprise parties.

— and —
Frank Lozen has purchased the quarter section of his place north of the town.

— and —
H. G. Troth has farmed this place of land since 1915 and lately sold it to H. Kruse, who, in turn, disposed of it to Mr. Logan.

— and —
Yes, it has been pretty dry this fall in every way, but your vote is going to make it wet in one direction anyway.

— and —
Mrs. V. C. Chapman is moving to Baintree for the winter months, so that the children will be able to attend school regularly.

— and —
The thorough curfew are all gone this time of the winter months, that the children will be able to attend school regularly.

Gathered from the four winds of heaven they have again disappeared into the blue, leaving us with a greater knowledge of human nature than ever.

— and —
One gentleman used to interest us very much. From his appearance he looked as though he had dropped out of the chair of philosophy in some of the most interesting cases we have ever met. Why he stayed so long as he did is a wonder to us, for he handled every "sheep" like a bundle of books, and no doubt said "they garden" if he dropped one.

— and —
Most of the boys had a wonderful capacity for McIntosh Reds and candy, and all were ready to take the slightest provocation to discuss the latter act with great vehemence.

— and —
So long fellows, see you later.
Last Monday we had the privilege of attending the school held in the Union Church at Rockyford. The supper was very fine and the programme excellent, but what impressed us most was the splendid manner in which the people of different religious denominations mingled together for the welfare of everyone, and how we would like to see everywhere, and all the time.

— and —
Now that "clausal D" has carried let us, but not abuse it.
At the best it is only a doubtful blessing, and it can easily be made a curse. Despite all its friends can claim for it. Booze never saved the life of anyone we know of.

— and —
On the other hand we have to think of the more positive evils it has ruined, body and soul, and what is worse still is the agony and misery it has inflicted on millions of innocent women and children. Last you think this is a sermon, let us tell you a little story: "An old Scotsman who had a very hen pecked husband, received word from Australia that she had become heir to a large estate. John begged to have a little money to celebrate with, and after a stormy ten minutes the old lady finally threw twelve cents on the table with the little remark: 'Here, we do not prohibit, but this don't make a beast of yourself w' drink.'"

Mrs. Jack Toner returned from Oregon accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Walton Cate. Mr. Toner is expected to arrive soon.

— and —
A little fixing up of prohibition road might help the assets of the town.

— and —
Mr. S. J. Ewing had the misfortune to have a couple of valuable sows killed on the track.

— and —
Mr. Tommy Garrett has repossessed his farm and is settling down after the sowing of a bushel of wild oats.

The president, at the aid, Mrs. Thos. Craig, desired to tender sincere thanks to the numerous contributors who helped donate towards the fund. The sum realized almost totaled two hundred dollars.

WINTER RESORTS IN CANADA

MORE and more Canadians who spend their holidays in winter time are flocking to the resorts of the west. The photograph shows Parliament Building at Victoria, B.C., one of Canada's world famous winter resorts, where many persons from other parts of the Dominion spend their winter holidays.

Cheadle Notes

— and —
Miss Helen Miller was home for Thanksgiving.

— and —
Threshing is about over in the district. Dave Smith finishing on Monday, and W. J. Miller will finish on Tuesday. Sin Meyers has a hundred acres of wheat to do yet, and some oats. He is going to try and be home by Christmas, if he has luck.

— and —
Dick Kays is around again after his accident. He is carrying his arm in a sling, but otherwise feeling pretty good.

— and —
Gordon McKenzie was spending the holiday with his sister, Mrs. Robbins, at Okotoks.

— and —
Mrs. Ira Smith and children were welcomed to Strathmore by her brother, Howard Lyons.

— and —
Harry Miner, an old and highly respected farmer of the Cheadle district, is having a sale on November 15th, and leaving the district. He has rented his place to his son, Roy, and is moving to Strathmore, which is not far away, but he will be missed from Cheadle, where he has been an old resident and good neighbor. May Mr. and Mrs. Miner live a long time to enjoy their well earned rest from the duties of farm life. What is Cheadle's loss of a good citizen is Strathmore's gain, for Mr. and Mrs. Miner have been hard workers in the social and community spirit of the district, and Mr. Miner takes lots of interest in the affairs of the district, and he has a heart as big as an ox.

ARMISTICE DANCE

An enjoyable and well-attended dance was held in the Memorial Hall on Friday evening, under the auspices of Strathmore G.W.A. Splendid music was provided by a seven piece local orchestra, and a nice supper was served by members of the G.W.A. Ladies Auxiliary.

Memorial Service

Strathmore War Memorial Hall was filled with a reverent congregation on Sunday, Armistice Day when the annual Memorial Service was held. The service was conducted by Rev. A. H. Howe, while Rev. Capt. F. E. Harrison gave an eloquent address on the lessons to be learned from the war, emphasizing the importance of preserving the ideals for which the men who had died fought.

— and —
The offertory was towards the erection of a memorial bearing the names of the men from the district who died overseas, and over $50 was realized.

— and —
It is stated that approximately $150 is now on hand towards the purchase of a tablet bearing the names of the men from the district killed in action in the war. It is estimated that the cost of the tablet and base will be approximately $500. It is proposed to have the tablet in front of the Memorial Hall or at the entrance to the hall. Dr. Girvin is convener of the Committee, and contributions will be gratefully received by him or by members of the G.W.A. It is hoped to have the memorial completed and unveiled by Peace Day, next July.

Standard News

Friends will be pleased to hear that Henry Jensen and Margaret Rasmussen have returned from the hospital in Calgary.

— and —
Who says Standard doesn't go in for sport? The only fault we have to find is that they hold them in the wee small hours so that the public can't see the fun. Come on Bill.

— and —
Threshing in this district is pretty well completed, and everyone is feeling fine over their wonderful crops.

— and —
A number of standard people spent the week-end in Calgary.

The newspaper is the great primary medium of advertising. There is no substitute for it. Properly used it will perform every service for the advertiser that all other mediums can perform, and will do it at lower cost. Rockyford Locals

Dr. M. E. and Mrs. Tiffin are spending the Thanksgiving with the doctor's parents at Lebbridge.

Nurse Ruth Elliott spent a few days in Edmonton last week. Nurse Anderson, Drumheller, relieving at the Rockyford Hospital during her absence.

Threshing is getting pretty well cleaned up. Hovey's, Bantock's, Brown's and Stine's outfits pulled in last week, while McCrea's outfit in this week. Radd's are about the only team on which threshing is still in progress. Elevators are working to capacity and getting a good supply of cars.

A number of harvesters had quite a time endeavoring to cash their cheques Thanksgiving Day, the bank being closed.

Dances in the district include one at Redlands on Friday of this week, and at Nightingale on the 25th.

Secretary E. W. Post and Councilor Brunner returned last week after attending the Rural Municipal Convention at Edmonton. Travelers between Strathmore and Rockyford are complaining of a tractor having been abandoned on the trail near Redlands for some weeks past. Hovey moved it may be the cause of a serious accident, as cars come down the trail at a good clip, and it is difficult to get out of the trail at that point. That road seems to be a favorite spot for devil tractors, as one has been lying there for some years, though it is far enough off the trail to offer no obstacle to traffic, but rather serve as a landmark.

Say boys, how about that skating rink for Rockyford this year? Is it going to get started properly, or are the committee laying down on the job.

Poker Game Held Up

A number of young men are now convinced of the stultified of playing games, especially card games, on Sunday.

Early Sunday morning a number of local devotees of the card game were holding a quiet session, when they commenced the previous evening, when three strangers, dressed in business suits, came in and took the place of anything the local boys could do.

It is reported that the man nearest the door on hearing the men's "hands up," thought it was someone working off a joke on him, and said "Aw, ferget it," or words to that effect but was convinced by the showing of a revolver that no joke was intended. The three men who made the hold-up were masked. They took about $25 from the table, but if they had frisked the players it is said they would have got a whole lot more.

Some of the men around the table had presence of mind enough to get their money off the table into their pockets or somewhere out of sight. One of them had not found the pocket very well, and a stream of money came down his trouser leg to the floor while he was in the arms upward stretch position. He explained to the holding man that it was a little silver that he had dropped through a hole in his pocket and that generous gentleman told him to let the chicken feed.

When the players got their nerve back they went to look for the bandits, but they were nowhere in evidence. Then they observed that the man who had frisked them was in charge of Mr. George Kennedy, Mrs. Henry Kestelhaugen, and Miss Eleanor Smith. The hold-up by Miss Lena Griffin and Miss Ellen Davis. The fish head was ably consoled by Mrs. Law Miller, while the candy push was visited under the able arms of Mr. Earle Browns. The house-keeping booth sold smelt and clean and then came under the care of Mrs. Dan Kestelhaugen, Mr. F. Ryan and Miss Stephanie Cunniff. The paddle wheel spun round with many lively wheels to the line of some and the disappointment of others under the expert management of Messrs. Purkiss and Jack Corbello. The supper was in charge of Mrs. A. Rubin, Mrs. P. Henke, Mrs. M. Holmstrom, Mrs. C. Griffiths, Mrs. P. Stitt and Mrs. J. Stitt and Mrs. L. Linette. A great number of the best of the community were present, and the evening was a most successful one.

Rockyford Anniversary Service

The second anniversary service of the Rockyford Union Church was a great success. Dr. G. W. Kerby, the special preacher for the occasion, at his usual lucid and fervent style brought two very helpful and inspiring messages. In the morning he dealt with the important theme of "World's Cure." After giving his audience a glimpse of world conditions with all the problems they present, he showed that their solution lay in "Deborah who changed iron." "Underneath all the unrest and change that is in the world is the unchangeable One. Upon whom we can all build." In the evening, taking "The Great Quest" as his subject, Dr. Kerby showed that truth is the great need of our modern life, and as Christ is the truth in familiar personal life, our supreme quest must be to Jesus Christ.

At the service the ladies presented the need of the Church Building Fund and the people responded with a generous contribution which will partially meet the need of the trustees Board.

On Monday night the Ladies Aid held their annual Turkey Supper. A good crowd was present in spite of the fact that many were detained owing to threshing operations. The supper was excellent, the thought of the delicious turkey still makes our "teeth water." The Ladies Aid being heartily commended on the splendid repast.

After the supper an excellent musical and literary programme was furnished by the following artists—Miss Sally Ruffard, Rev. Father Dolz, Miss Ruby Brown, Mrs. Knowlton, Miss Fay Tooth, Miss A. Day, Louise Riley, and Miss T. Wynan.

Following the programme, Dr. Kerby delivered the address with his popular address on "Some Present Day Problems." The hour was ending late but the Dr. Kerby's address was so deeply appreciated that cries of "more" were repeatedly uttered when Dr. Kerby would suggest that he was going to stop.

Successful Bazaar

St. Rita's Ladies' Altar Society of St. Rita's Rockford church have another successful success on Monday, Thanksgiving Day, when they held their third annual bazaar, supper, and dance.

The bazaar hall the scene of action, was tastefully decorated for the occasion, and every seat was filled with a variety of goods, such as fancy work, knick-knacks, quilts, candy, and food, and all kinds of good things to eat in the home cooking booth. The supper was on the verge of a disaster because the crowd far exceeded the expectations of the ladies, and the cats got kind of scarce, but with perseverance the hungry ones were filled to satisfaction.

The paddle wheel proved an attraction and yielded a goodly sum from the little of left over articles. The various booths spun turkeys, ducks, chickens and two pigs. The handsome white chair was looked upon with envy eyes by all who attended, and when the drawing took place the ticket held by Mr. A. Pignin of the Hovey farm came to be the lucky one. No doubt the chair will prove to be a comfort in the long winter evenings to come, when Mrs. Pignin will be forced to sit in the chair and watch the bidding tables for a numerous and hungry thrashing crew. A sum well over the five hundred mark was cleared at the bazaar, and hearty thanks are to be extended to all who donated to, worked for, and attended the bazaar, and spent so freely.

The bazaar was in charge of Mrs. George Kennedy, Mrs. Henry Kestelhaugen, and Miss Eleanor Smith. The hold-up by Miss Lena Griffin and Miss Ellen Davis. The fish head was ably consoled by Mrs. Law Miller, while the candy push was visited under the able arms of Mr. Earle Browns. The house-keeping booth sold smelt and clean and then came under the care of Mrs. Dan Kestelhaugen, Mr. F. Ryan and Miss Stephanie Cunniff. The paddle wheel spun round with many lively wheels to the line of some and the disappointment of others under the expert management of Messrs. Purkiss and Jack Corbello. The supper was in charge of Mrs. A. Rubin, Mrs. P. Henke, Mrs. M. Holmstrom, Mrs. C. Griffiths, Mrs. P. Stitt and Mrs. J. Stitt and Mrs. L. Linette. A great number of the best of the community were present, and the evening was a most successful one.

The purchase price is payable 10 per cent, deposit at the time of the sale; the balance of the purchase price, without interest, to be paid into Court within sixty (60) days from the date of the sale.

The conditions of the sale were the standing conditions of the Court. Further particulars may be had from Mr. H. McQuinn, Barrister, Rockyford, Alberta.

Dated at the City of Calgary in the Province of Alberta this 27th day of September, A.D. 1923.

Advertisers, Attention

Advertisers who receive matrices of their merchandise from their manufacturers or who a sales can bring them to us and we will make cuts for use in their advertising.

This service, we are confident, will result in greater increased business for every advertiser who takes advantage of it.

You will be better able to tell the people on Strathmore and vicinity about what you have to sell or what you want to buy.

And you can put your message across in a handier, easier understood manner that will be pleasing to readers of the Strathmore Standard, and most satisfactory to you in the greater results obtained.

And, in addition to being able to supply you with suitable cuts for illustration, we are so planned and executed that they exert the maximum amount of pulling power possible in the space used.

So, when you want to run an ad, instead of spending time to write it yourself, come in and let us help you. We'll give you one that fits your needs—illustration and all.

Is It Peace

(An ex-soldier soliloquizes)
When Kaiser William lost his head
And tried to smash the blinkin' earth
I guess it's up to me, I said
"To show the blighter what he's worth."

I had no taste for soldierin' ways,
In fact I wanted nothing more Than livin' peaceful all my days,
But up I got and went to war
And for long heady years I stuck
Of blood and sweat and wounds and muck.

I never had through all that spelt,
One thought of glory or of pride;
I hated all of it like hell.
And now I wish I could have died
(Like better men); but all the same Somewhere inside of me I knew
'Twould be an everlasting shame
If England didn't see it through;
That Englishmen, were bound to fight
The brute idea that Might is Right.

And when we'd done the job, not I,
"We've won a better state o' things
No more will men be forced to die
For whims of Kaisers and of Kings; Nations won't squabble all the while;
This war has made 'em understand;
They'll plod along in sober style,
With Peace and Reason hand-in-hand."

A dam had prophet dreamin' dreams
My breath was wasted so I sawer.
"I'm sickened, lookin' round today,
The world seems pretty well as usual,
Swords rattlin' in the same old way
And mailed fists shakin' just as bad.
It makes a feller feel inclined
To envy those who sleep out there,
Who never guessed the rotten kind O' disappointment we're to have.
With hopes still bright they took their call;
Were they the happiest, after all?"
—Punch—

Thanks to the energy and enterprise displayed by various local stores during the past few years, you can buy your requirements in most lines at least as cheaply as at the city stores or through the mails, and you save the travelling or mail expenses. Besides you see the goods before you purchase them, and you always have a come back if they do not turn up to expectations. The resulting increase in business done by local firms proves that people generally are realizing this. If you spend your money at home you are building up better economic and moral conditions for yourself and your neighbors.

The "Bassano Mail" makes a wise crack when it says that the legislation to be framed as a result of the November 5, plebiscite may be termed a Drought Relief Act.

A great responsibility rests upon the people who voted for "Moderation" last week. They will have to advise the Government in the enforcing of the legislation which will be passed as a result of the plebiscite, and in doing so will probably have to fight the people whose object is private gain from the traffic. Liberty is only justified when it is not abused. The alternative is prohibition, and if the new laws are disregarded, we can expect prohibition to be carried on another plebiscite by the vote of many of the same people who last week voted the other way.

You read the ads. In this paper, or if you don't you are missing chances of economy. Mention to your local dealer that you are reading his advertising. He will appreciate that, and so will you. And if you can point out to him any way in which he can make his advertising of more service to you, do not be slow to do so.
Advertising makes the modern newspaper possible, and it is a co-operative venture, as between the reader, the advertiser, and the publisher.

Intervicting a fish on to a hook has been the accepted means of catching since the stone age. Catching him in a net is a method of quite respectable antiquity. Now the Americans are using a pump, and drawing him in. A tube running fore and aft empties into a tank, and as fish continue to pump at the forward end, sucks in about 14 tons of fish and water a minute. This goes into a tank which catches the fish, and allows the water to run off. The method is simple and extraordinarily efficient. For if the best passes through a sheet of fish more than two tons of fish a minute may be trapped in the tank.

course every person in the photo displayed afterwards they thought of Bridget but it never dawned upon them to put it down, oh, yes, we had no bananas. The famous Bridget was drawn for from the names handed in, and she was the pleasant surprise for me, a lonely bachelor of Badminton, no other than Pat McEllan was the pretty Miss. Pat blushed and resolutely gave the doll back to be won by the highest bidder, and another envious bidder, John Sims, bought it for the dollars. The collector said: "What does John want with a doll? Why, for his niece, he gave it to his little niece Anita Henke. Are you satisfied? The other prize dolls were won by Elben Gavin (it will help brighten the lonely school m'ams' and the pleasant collector's day). Anita Henke again was lucky to win the other one.

Slats' Diary

Friday—well from all I can gather from various and uncorroborated sources I feel we will have seen new things in our garden next summer. I had had a trifling say all about it. But we see. Dillan said her she had arranged to have a Pansy tree in there back yd. and ma told her she didn't no society what it was but he was a going to have a slip-off of it. So I suppose that will mean a rather fair for me to send to all admirer long and water and trim around it and etc.

Saturday—well they say politics has nothing to do with the schools and kids and etc. but I have noticed 1 thing since we new mayor got elected I am had a licking in school since it happened. Nor even half to stop in after school for nothing leader.

Sunday—Ma called it the celebration of a holloween Bonanza but to me it was just another year of year feeling youth a getting married on the life for the duration of the war.
The way it came about this life is a mirror at holloween and sometimes husband with turns out to be the way she married. Pa says the girls used to be in a mirror in there husbands but now they look like a popular book now by Mr. Brad St.

Monday—Teacher at the class what was a favorite subject and all of us kids of the string and only to be Gorally. she said that was a v wise choice but she didn't no it was because we can hide the funny about behind it better any other book we got.

Tuesday—I saw the young couple with got married day before yesterday about as crazy about each other at that. Because today I went out the grocery a buying a lot of onions to eat.

Wednesday—Pa went to a house to see man today. When he got his what was the lecture about he said it was Pa's I have Met. Then he showed her the ticket and it was A.M.
ONE. 5 tickets of are family laid happily.

Thursday—Pa and ma was a setting ready to a tend a married hall tonight and ma sat on low as he was to dress and who was he going to represent. Pa said he was going to be a Peace man and she didn't no how to go and he expected that he go with him and represent. Pa said it was not Peace but it was a Peacey.

New Lamp Burns
94 p.c. Air

Beats Electric and Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 25 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps.
It burns without odor, smoke or noise
—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 44 per cent. air and 6 per cent. common kerosene (coal oil).
The inventor, J. C. Johnson, 579 McMurtree Ave., Winnipeg, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.
